Eighth Grade Trip

The eighth grade students, Mr. Tucker, Mr. Murphy, Ms. Slayton, Mrs. LaRoche, Mrs. Hill, and Mrs. Tiede traveled to Salem, Massachusetts and visited a witch museum and a pirate museum and watched a witch re-enactment trial. All were very interesting.

The best adventure, though, was the scavenger hunt that Mr. Murphy and Mr. Tucker had set up for the students in a cemetery in Salem village. The evening was spent in Seekonk, Massachusetts shopping, swimming, and playing football.

The next day the group rose early and ventured to Newport, Rhode Island. Unfortunately, the weather prevented the students from fully exploring the Cliff Walk, but we did roam the rocks near Kings Beach. After riding the full length of Ocean Drive, where students all chose the mansions they would live in, it was off to Fort Adams for more history.

Our timing turned out to be absolutely perfect for the last event – Six Flags. The sky was overcast, and it kept the crowd away. Our roller coaster daredevils managed to ride every single coaster without waiting in lines. The adventure ended with the whole group riding the swing ride together.

We had chartered a bus for the two days, and upon arriving back in Andover the driver commented that the students were the most well-mannered group he had driven. It was a nice way to end the year for the eighth grade class, many of whom have been classmates for nine years.

This trip was made possible through fundraising. Thanks to all who helped support the fundraising efforts. Thank you to Jim Tucker and Tina Barton for coordinating and organizing the various fundraising activities.

Last Day Of School

The last school day was June 22, and although outdoor field events were hampered by the rain, the day was still packed with fun, celebration, and farewells. The AE/MS PTO and our school kitchen staff put on a feast for students, staff members, and guests. It was certainly enjoyed by the students. Snow cones are always a treat!

The afternoon had the traditional catapult competition as we watched seventh grade student teams fling eggs
