Sock Hop Back By Popular Demand
November 1 at the Grange Hall in Danbury

Press release
Come rock and roll to '50s and '60s music. The Blazing Star Grange Sock Hop in June was such a success that Carl Hultberg is setting up his turntables again and bringing his huge collection of 45s to spin some classic rock tunes at the Blazing Star Grange Hall on Saturday, November 1, in Danbury from 7 to 10 PM. Admission is a suggested donation of $5. Carl brings several large plastic bins of 45s that he has salvaged from the Danbury Transfer Station and gleefully asks people to pick their favorite tunes for him to play on his vintage equipment. Everyone is invited to pore through the bins and take home records that tickle their fancy.

Hultberg is Danbury's renowned recycling expert, poet, and musician, who has a vast background in jazz. His recently published book, Rudi and Me, is a biographical story of his grandfather, jazz critic Rudi Blesh.

So, if you want to have fun and get plenty of exercise, be sure to mark your calendar for Saturday, November 1. Bring your friends and meet your neighbors at the fall Blazing Star Grange Sock Hop. Refreshments will be available.

Grange colors and market information will be gifted to each and every customer (while supplies last) who enters the building. The bags are a fit finale to celebrate the ending of the last year of a two-year season of sustainability programs and events.

The market fills two floors of the historic Grange Hall built in 1911 and operates from 9 AM to 1 PM. Market-goers will be able to view the newly restored stage curtains which are planned to be changed over the course of the market season so all of them can be viewed.

Downstairs, breakfast and lunch will be served at the Blazing Star Bistro.

At press time, the 20-space market has just a few part-time openings for the 2014-2015 season, which runs from November through May on the first Saturday of each month. Some of the products that will be available are honey, soap, jewelry, veggies, baked goods, meats, clothing, crafts, and candy. All items at the market are locally made, grown, or produced by the vendor.
