Workshop leader Harvey Pine (in the baseball cap) then demonstrated bottling techniques. The workshop, sponsored by the Andover Institute, drew more than a dozen participants and produced 18 gallons of cider.

Have you got solar panels on your roof, or are you thinking about them? That's great, but that's just one side of the sustainable-energy coin. The other side of the coin is energy conservation (using less energy than you do now) and energy efficiency (getting more bang for the bucks you now spend on electricity, heat, etc.).

That's the message that Bob Eldredge brought to Andover with his "Button Up, NH" presentation in October. Here Eldredge, a certified energy professional, discusses the order in which to tackle the job of sealing air leaks, which add significantly to the cost of heating a home: first, the Attic; then, the Basement; then the building's Core or center. It's as simple as ABC, he says.

For a digitized file of the visuals Eldredge used in his Andover presentation, e-mail the Andover Energy Group, sponsor of the presentation, at LBCChase@aol.com.

Act Now to Get Your Business Listed in New Andover Directory

Businesses and other services, too!

Press release

The Andover Directory of Business and Services for 2016 will be published this winter by the Andover Community Association. All Andover businesses and services are welcome to be listed free. For those who want more exposure than a simple listing (or would like to help support this community project), ad space is available at $60 for a full page, $30 for a half page, or $15 for a quarter page.

Formerly known as the Our Town directory and last published in 2009, the re-named and updated booklet for 2016 will be mailed free of charge to all Andover residents and will be available online.

If you own an Andover business or offer a service and would like to be listed but have not been contacted, please contact Margo Coolidge at 735-5418 or Margo.Coolidge@tds.net.
