Santa paid a visit to the East Andover Village Preschool's holiday party in December. Some thought that Santa looked a lot like Lloyd Perreault.

Wonderful Holiday Season at East Andover Village Preschool

Press release

We had a wonderful holiday season at EAVP, with Grandparents' Day, and a classroom holiday party.

Grandparents' Day was a huge success with a record 43 grandparents in attendance! We met grandparents from near and far; Andrew's grandparents were here from Chicago and Crosby's Grandpop flew up from Florida for the event!

Our friend, Margo Coolidge, was there with her guitar to lead us in a sing-along, which was followed by ornament making. It was a busy, fun morning. Thank you to all the grandparents who attended and made the day special!

Our classroom party was a blast! We shared a special snack and played some holiday-themed games. Bianca's grandmother visited as our guest reader. It is a long standing tradition for Santa to visit

EAVP in the weeks just before Christmas, and this year he didn't disappoint. Santa gifted each child with a book, listened to their Christmas wishes and answered questions about his reindeer and the North Pole. The children gave Santa a gift; a pair of nice warm socks so that his feet would not be cold on his trip around the world.

Although we have several months left in our school year, the enrollment period for next year is coming right up. Beginning February 1, current families will be given the opportunity to choose their days for next year. March 1 families on our waiting list may enroll. We will be hosting an Open House on Saturday morning, March 9 from 9 to 11 AM. Families interested in seeing our school or learning more about our program are invited to stop by. We'd love to meet you! For more information, please call the school at 735-5105 or email us at eavp@tds.net

Logan Welch and Eric Bates successfully wrap up Jed Duquette as their final challenge of an ELA Escape Room.

Sonny Braley, Madisyn Drouin, Ian Szilagyi and Caden Nelson are creating edible Christmas trees in their first grade classroom. The first graders made many amazing ornaments, projects and stories before vacation. Mr. Wiley and Mrs. Fadden incorporated the excitement of Christmas into reading, writing and math too!

First grader, Charlie Welch, enjoys reading holiday books on the carpet with her classmates.
